

All Basic Pronouns

| Arabic | Transliteration | Meaning      | Notes                   |
|--------|-----------------|--------------|-------------------------|
| أنا    | anaa            | I            | 1st person singular     |
| أنت    | anta            | You (m)      | 2nd person masculine    |
| أنتي   | anti            | You (f)      | Kasra at end = feminine |
| هو     | huwa            | He / It (m)  | 3rd person masculine    |
| هي     | hiya            | She / It (f) | 3rd person feminine     |
| نحن    | nahnu           | We           | 1st person plural       |
| أنتم   | antum           | You all (m)  | 2nd person plural       |
| هم     | hum             | They (m)     | 3rd person plural       |

RULE: Arabic doesn't need a verb 'to be' in present tense. هو هو معلم = He is a teacher (no 'is' word!)

Pronoun Sentences

| Arabic   | Meaning              |
|----------|----------------------|
| أنا مسلم | I am a Muslim        |
| أنت كريم | You are generous (m) |
| هو معلم  | He is a teacher      |
| هي طالبة | She is a student     |

★ هو هو الله — هو refers to Allah in Surah Al-Ikhlās = Say: He is Allah, the One

★ هو can mean 'it' for any masculine noun. هي can mean 'it' for any feminine noun.

★ هو vs هي — the only difference is the final vowel: kasra for feminine, fatha for masculine