

Noon Sakinah — Overview

Noon Sakinah is the letter Noon (n) WITH sukoon (no vowel): Nun-sakin. The same rules apply to Tanween (the double vowel markings at the end of indefinite nouns).

4 Rules Summary

| Rule                   | Trigger                        | Result                           |
|------------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. Izhar (Clarity)     | Before 6 throat letters        | Clear Noon sound                 |
| 2. Idgham (Merging)    | Before y r m l w n (6 letters) | Noon disappears into next letter |
| 3. Iqlab (Conversion)  | Before Ba only                 | Noon becomes hidden Meem         |
| 4. Ikhfa (Concealment) | Before remaining 15 letters    | Partial nasal hold               |

Rule 1: Izhar — Clear Pronunciation

RULE: When Noon Sakinah or Tanween is followed by one of the 6 THROAT letters, the Noon is pronounced CLEARLY with no nasal sound.

The 6 Throat Letters (Izhar letters):

Hamza ('), Ha, Ayn, Ha-deep, Ghayn, Kha

Memory aid: Akhi Haka 'Ilman Hazahu Ghayru Khasir

Why Izhar?

The Noon comes from the tongue/nasal area. The 6 throat letters come from the throat — far away. There's no clash between them, so the Noon stays clear and fully pronounced.

Quranic Examples

| Arabic     | Meaning            | Rule Applied                   | How to Read                      |
|------------|--------------------|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Min Haadin | From a guide       | Noon before Ha — Izhar         | Min is clearly 'min' — no nasal  |
| An'amta    | You have blessed   | Noon before Ayn (Al-Fatiha v7) | Pronounced an-'amta — clear Noon |
| Man Aslama | Whoever submitted  | Noon before Hamza              | Clear: man-aslama                |
| Junhatun   | Sin (tanween + Ha) | Tanween before throat letter   | Clear tanween sound              |

Practice Checklist

- ★ Identify the letter AFTER the Noon Sakinah — is it one of the 6 throat letters?
- ★ If yes: pronounce the Noon FULLY and CLEARLY, no nasal hold.

★ Find An'amta in Al-Fatiha (verse 7) and practice Izhar daily.

★ Total letters covered: 6 (Izhar) — 22 remaining letters covered by other 3 rules.